

A Perfect World

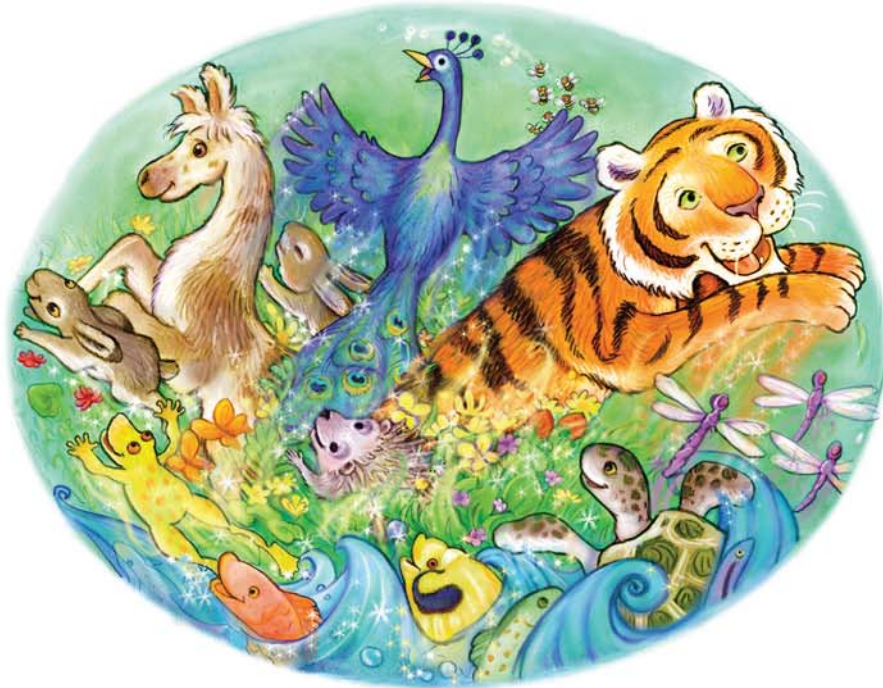

Genesis 1 - 2

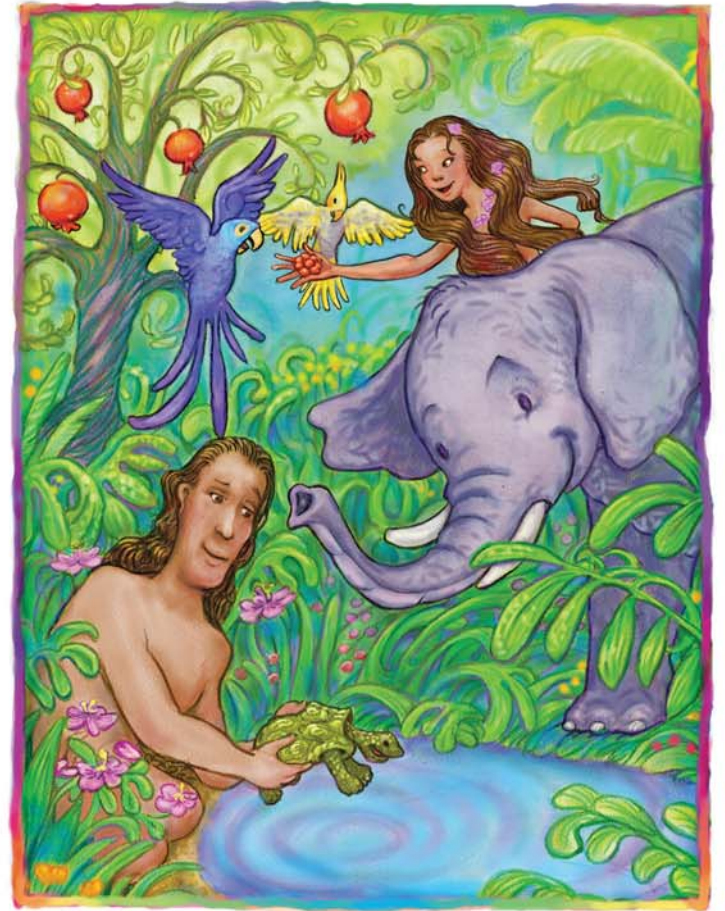

Long ago, nothing existed except God. But God had a loving plan. He said, "Let there be light," and he called the light day, and he called the darkness night.

"Let there be water and dry ground," God said. And the seas formed and the land popped up with grass and trees!

Then God made fish, birds, and all kinds of animals. Everything God made was good.

Finally God created a man and a woman named Adam and Eve. They loved each other, and God loved them both very much.
